Viksit Bharat-G RAM G Bill

Building Assets Not Just Wages

Advitya Bahl

Rural India today stands transformed. Over the past two decades, rising incomes, improved connectivity, digital penetration, and diversified livelihoods have reshaped the nature of work and aspirations in villages. While the Mahatma Gandhi National Rural Employment Guarantee Act (MGNREGA) has been instrumental in providing wage security and basic infrastructure since 2005, the socio-economic landscape it was designed for has evolved. Open-ended, demand-driven employment models, though essential in their time, no longer fully address contemporary rural needs, including income stability, climate resilience, and infrastructure-led growth.

Recognising these changed realities, the Viksit Bharat-Guarantee for Rozgar and Ajeekika Mission (Gramin) Bill, 2025—or Viksit Bharat-G RAM G Bill—represents a decisive shift in rural employment policy. It moves beyond temporary relief to link guaranteed work with productive, durable assets, robust local planning, and national development priorities. By integrating wage security with sustainable infrastructure creation, digital governance, and climate-conscious interventions, the Bill transforms rural employment into a strategic driver for inclusive growth, resilience, and the vision of Viksit Bharat 2047.

Enhanced Employment Guarantee (125 Days)

The Viksit Bharat-G RAM G Bill, 2025 proposes to increase guaranteed wage employment from 100 to 125 days per rural household per year, providing families dependent on casual labour with a more stable and predictable source of income. This additional entitlement helps bridge seasonal income gaps, smooths household consumption, and reduces vulnerability to economic shocks. The extra 25 days of guaranteed work can significantly strengthen the financial stability of low-income households, enabling them to invest in health, education, and livelihood-enhancing activities.

To ensure timely remuneration, the Bill mandates that wages are disbursed weekly, or at least within a fortnight, supported by digital payments and biometric authentication. This mechanism reduces dependence on intermediaries, enhances transparency, and strengthens trust in the programme.

Beyond household-level benefits, the increase in rural incomes generates a multiplier effect on the broader economy. Steady wages boost consumption of goods and services, stimulate demand for local markets, agricultural produce, and small-scale enterprises, and support rural businesses. This, in turn, creates additional employment, strengthens supply chains, and establishes a virtuous cycle of income and growth. By enhancing purchasing power at the grassroots level, the Bill not only promotes inclusive development but also contributes to sustainable macroeconomic expansion, reinforcing the vision of a self-reliant and resilient Viksit Bharat.

Balanced Agricultural and Labour Needs

The Viksit Bharat-G RAM G Bill, 2025 recognises the interdependence between rural employment and agricultural productivity, and addresses it through a carefully designed 60-day no-work period during peak farming seasons. This pause ensures that critical agricultural activities such as sowing and harvesting have ensuring that the benefits of the employment guarantee do not come at the cost of food security or farm output. This integrated design exemplifies the Bill's broader goal of harmonising social protection with sustainable rural development.

Linking Employment to Long Lasting Assets Creation

Unlike the earlier demand-driven model, this Bill positions rural employment as a strategic instrument for productivity, resilience, and infrastructure-led development, ensuring that public works contribute not only to immediate income support but also to sustainable, long-term rural transformation.

A key feature of this alignment is the integration of wage employment with the works like soil conservation, flood management, and water harvesting strengthen rural communities against environmental shocks. Together, these verticals create a synergistic framework, where employment generation drives asset creation, strengthens resilience, and contributes directly to the broader vision of a self-reliant, developed, and inclusive rural economy.

Decentralised Planning through Viksit Gram Panchayat Plans

The Bill empowers Gram Panchayats to lead local planning through Viksit Gram Panchayat Plans (VGPPs), enabling villages to identify, prioritise, and implement works that address their specific needs. By decentralising planning, the Bill ensures that public works are people-centric and reflect the real priorities of the community, whether sufficient access to labour, preventing potential disruptions in crop cycles and safeguarding farm incomes.

At the same time, the Bill maintains the 125-day employment guarantee for rural households by redistributing work across the remaining periods of the year. This approach balances the dual objectives of securing income for casual labourers and meeting the labour requirements of the agricultural sector. By synchronising rural employment with farming calendars, the Bill minimises competition between public works and agriculture, reduces wage inflation during peak periods, and promotes efficient allocation of human resources at the village level.

This feature demonstrates a strategic shift from purely demand-driven employment to a model that integrates rural livelihoods with broader economic planning. It not only strengthens household income security but also supports agricultural productivity, creation of durable infrastructure. By tying employment to productive assets, the Bill ensures that public spending generates lasting value, from improved water management systems to enhanced connectivity and livelihood facilities. This approach shifts the focus from short-term relief to structural development, allowing communities to benefit from tangible, long-term improvements while workers gain skills and incomes.

To operationalise this vision, the Bill prioritises four development verticals: water security, core rural infrastructure, livelihood infrastructure, and climate resilience. Water-related projects enhance agricultural productivity and groundwater recharge, while core infrastructure such as roads, bridges, and connectivity improves market access. Livelihood infrastructure—including storage facilities, local markets, and production assets—supports income diversification, and climate-resilient in water conservation, rural roads, or livelihood infrastructure. This approach strengthens accountability, as villagers can actively monitor execution and outcomes through Gram Sabhas and social audits.

Decentralised planning also allows projects to be tailored to local ecological, agricultural, and socio-economic conditions. For instance, water harvesting initiatives in drought-prone areas or flood mitigation works in low-lying regions can be implemented based on local knowledge, making employment both guaranteed and productive.

The VGPPs are integrated with national systems such as the Viksit Bharat National Rural Infrastructure Stack and PM Gati Shakti, ensuring that village-level initiatives contribute to broader national development goals through efficient resource convergence and coordinated infrastructure planning.

The Bill further strengthens the capacity of Panchayats by providing training, digital tools, and real-time monitoring systems, enabling professionalised, outcome-focused governance. This combination of local autonomy, technical capacity, and national integration maximises the developmental impact of every public work.

Viksit Bharat-G RAM G Bill : Building Assets Not Just Wages*Strengthening Transparency and Accountability through Digital Governance

The Viksit Bharat-G RAM G Bill, 2025 places improved transparency and digital governance at the core of programme implementation, building on but substantially strengthening the digital reforms introduced under MGNREGA. Over the past decade, MGNREGA demonstrated the impact of technology-led governance: Aadhaar seeding of workers exceeded 95 per cent nationally, electronic wage payments became nearly 100 per cent, and more than 300 million assets were geo-tagged, significantly reducing manual record-keeping and cash-based leakages. However, gaps remained in attendance verification, asset validation, and real-time oversight, particularly at scale.

The new Bill addresses these limitations through end-to-end digital integration. Worker attendance will be captured digitally and verified through biometric authentication, ensuring that wages are paid only for actual work performed and eliminating the scope for ghost workers or inflated muster rolls. This directly tackles one of the most frequently observed irregularities under earlier audits, where physical attendance and expenditure often did not match ground realities.

Asset creation and progress monitoring are strengthened through mandatory geo-tagging and time-stamped photographic evidence at multiple stages of work execution. All assets are mapped into the Viksit Bharat National Rural Infrastructure Stack, creating a unified, searchable database of rural infrastructure. This enables continuous tracking of asset quality, location, and utility, reducing the incidence of incomplete or non-existent works that previously resulted in financial losses and recovery proceedings.

The Bill further enables the use of artificial intelligence and advanced analytics to flag anomalies in real time, such as unusual expenditure patterns, repeated work at the same location, or deviations between labour and material ratios. These AI-driven alerts allow for early intervention by district, state, or central authorities, shifting governance from retrospective audits to preventive oversight.

Transparency is reinforced through real-time public dashboards, which disclose expenditure, work progress, employment generated, and wage payments on a weekly basis. Mandatory social audits at least once every six months, conducted through Gram Sabhas with full access to records, institutionalise community oversight. Evidence from MGNREGA social audits shows that states with robust audit mechanisms recovered hundreds of crores annually, underscoring the effectiveness of community-led accountability.

These measures transform the governance architecture from a compliance-based system into a data-driven, outcome-focused framework. By combining digital attendance, biometric verification, geo-spatial monitoring, AI-based analytics, and strengthened social audits, the Bill significantly reduces leakages, improves asset quality, and ensures that public funds translate into measurable development outcomes. This digital-first governance model not only protects public resources but also builds citizen trust, aligning rural employment delivery with the standards required for a transparent, accountable, and Viksit Bharat 2047.

Normative Funding Approach

The Bill introduces a normative and predictable funding structure under a centrally sponsored framework, replacing the earlier demand-driven model of MGNREGA. Under this approach, allocations to states are determined using objective criteria such as population, number of rural households, historical employment demand, and regional cost variations. The Bill specifies a standard Centre-State cost-sharing ratio of 60:40, enhanced support of 90:10 for North Eastern and Himalayan states, and 100% central funding for Union Territories without legislatures. Additional provisions ensure that states receive extra assistance during disasters, while material and administrative costs are factored into the allocations, providing clarity and predictability for planning and execution.

This is a marked departure from the earlier demand-based system, where allocations depended on ad hoc requests from states, often resulting in delays, mismatched budgets, and uncertainty in employment delivery. The normative approach guarantees a clear entitlement of funds, enabling states to plan and implement projects efficiently while maintaining flexibility to respond to emergencies without disrupting the employment guarantee. This funding model strengthens fiscal discipline, accountability, and Centre-State cooperation.

Strengthened Administrative Capacity

The Viksit Bharat-G RAM G Bill, 2025 significantly strengthens implementation capacity by raising the administrative expenditure ceiling from 6 per cent under MGNREGA to 9 per cent of total programme expenditure. This enhancement directly addresses one of the longstanding structural constraints of the earlier framework, where large-scale programme delivery was managed with limited staffing, inadequate technical support, and overstretched field functionaries.

Under MGNREGA, administrative costs were capped at 6 per cent despite the programme operating at an annual scale exceeding Rs. 1 lakh crore in recent years. This constraint limited the ability of states and districts to adequately recruit technical personnel, programme officers, accountants, engineers, and social audit staff. As a result, planning quality, supervision of works, grievance redressal, and monitoring often suffered, contributing to delays, weak asset quality, and governance gaps.

By increasing the ceiling to 9 per cent, the Bill provides additional fiscal space for human resources, training, and institutional capacity-building. The expanded allocation enables states to strengthen frontline administration through improved staffing levels, better remuneration, continuous skill upgradation, and deployment of technical expertise for planning, execution, and quality control. It also supports investments in digital systems, real-time monitoring tools, and social audit mechanisms, which are central to the Bill's emphasis on transparency and accountability.

In quantitative terms, with the estimated annual programme outlay of Rs. 1.51 lakh crore, the enhanced administrative ceiling translates into a substantially larger and more realistic resource envelope for programme management. This shift reflects a recognition that effective delivery of large-scale rural employment and infrastructure programmes requires professionalised administration, not merely higher wage allocations.

Conclusion

The Viksit Bharat-G RAM G Bill, 2025 marks a decisive departure from welfare-as-relief towards welfare-as-investment. It acknowledges that rural India no longer requires an open-ended safety net alone, but a framework that converts public expenditure into productivity, resilience, and long-term growth. By redesigning employment guarantees around durable asset creation, predictable funding, decentralised planning, and digital accountability, the Bill corrects the structural limitations of MGNREGA while preserving its core commitment to income security.

The Bill stands out for aligning micro-level livelihood support with macro-level economic objectives. Enhanced employment days raise rural incomes and stimulate demand, while synchronisation with agricultural cycles protects farm productivity. Normative funding improves fiscal discipline and Centre-State coordination, and strengthened administrative capacity ensures that scale does not come at the cost of governance. The integration of digital tools, AI-based monitoring, and social audits shifts oversight from reactive correction to preventive control, significantly reducing leakages and improving asset quality.

Taken together, these reforms reposition rural employment as a strategic pillar of national development, not a residual poverty-alleviation measure. The Bill embeds rural households into India's infrastructure, climate resilience, and growth story, ensuring that villages are not passive recipients of welfare but active contributors to economic transformation. In doing so, the Viksit Bharat-G RAM G Bill operationalises the vision of Viksit Bharat 2047—a rural economy that is productive, resilient, accountable, and fully integrated into India's development trajectory.

■ PM Modi's Three-Nation Tour Deepens Ties; CEPA Deal Sealed with OMAN

Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi has concluded a three-nation tour of Jordan, Ethiopia and Oman from December 15 to 18, focusing on strengthening bilateral relations and expanding cooperation in trade, security and regional issues. In Jordan, Shri Modi met King Abdullah II bin Al Hussein to mark 75 years of diplomatic ties and discuss strategic and regional developments. In Ethiopia, he was conferred the Great Honour Nishan of Ethiopia, highlighting India's deepening engagement with Africa. The two countries have elevated their ties to "strategic partnership." The tour culminated in Oman, where India and the Sultanate marked 70 years of diplomatic relations. A major outcome was the signing of a Comprehensive Economic Partnership Agreement (CEPA), which grants Indian goods zero-duty access on about 98 per cent of Oman's tariff lines, covering most Indian exports such as textiles, gems and jewellery, pharmaceuticals and automobiles, while India will liberalise tariffs on roughly 78 per cent of its tariff lines covering imports from Oman. The pact also includes commitments to enhance services trade and mobility for professionals, opening new avenues for Indian businesses and skilled workers. Shri Modi was also conferred the Order of Oman, the Sultanate's highest civilian honour. The tour underscored India's sustained diplomatic focus on West Asia and Africa as key strategic regions.

■ WHO Summit Charts Global Roadmap for Scientific Integration of Traditional Medicine

The Second WHO Global Summit on Traditional Medicine concluded in New Delhi on December 19, with major outcomes aimed at strengthening the scientific validation and global integration of traditional medicine systems. The summit announced new initiatives to build a stronger evidence base for traditional medicine, focusing on regulation, quality and safety. A proposal to form a global consortium was also unveiled to accelerate implementation of the WHO Global Traditional Medicine Strategy 2025–2034 and support integration of traditional and complementary medicine into national health systems. Participants from over 100 countries, including ministers, scientists and leaders of Indigenous communities discussed the use of emerging technologies such as artificial intelligence and genomics, while stressing the need to respect biodiversity, cultural values and ethical standards. India highlighted its Ayush systems at an expo on the sidelines, reinforcing its leadership in the field.

■ USBRL Rail Corridor Enables Historic Army Armour Induction

The Indian Army achieved a major logistics milestone on December 16 by inducting tanks, artillery guns and engineering equipment into the Kashmir Valley using a special military train on the Udhampur-Srinagar-Baramulla Rail Link (USBRL). As part of a logistics validation exercise, tanks, artillery and dozers were transported from the Jammu region to Anantnag in South Kashmir, marking the first time heavy armour has been inducted into the Valley at this scale by rail instead of traditional road convoys. The Army described the move as historic, underscoring its enhanced ability to rapidly deploy heavy equipment across high-altitude, weather-prone Himalayan terrain. The rail-based induction strengthens operational readiness along the northern borders while reducing reliance on mountain highways vulnerable to snow, landslides and security disruptions.

■ CCEA Clears CoalSETU Policy to Liberalise Coal Linkages

The Union Cabinet Committee on Economic Affairs, chaired by Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi, has approved the CoalSETU (Seamless, Efficient & Transparent Utilisation) policy, marking a major shift in India's coal allocation framework. A key takeaway of the policy is the introduction of a new auction window under the Non-Regulated Sector Linkage Policy, allowing any industrial consumer to bid for long-term coal linkages without end-use restrictions. Industries can use the coal for captive consumption, coal washing, or export up to 50 per cent of the allotted quantity, though resale within India remains prohibited. By removing earlier limitations and ensuring transparent allocation through auctions, the policy aims to improve domestic coal utilisation, reduce dependence on imports and strengthen energy security. The framework is also expected to attract investment in coal washeries, improve coal quality and support industrial growth, reinforcing India's position in the global coal market.

■ Unrest Deepens as Bangladesh Faces Political and Economic Crisis

Bangladesh is grappling with widespread unrest and a sharp economic downturn following the killing of youth leader Sharif Osman Hadi, which triggered violent protests across the country. Demonstrations erupted in Dhaka and other major cities, with clashes between protesters and security forces and reports of arson and mob violence. The interim government led by Mr. Muhammad Yunus, installed after the military-backed removal of Ms. Sheikh Hasina in August 2024, has struggled to restore order amid allegations of arbitrary detentions, attacks on journalists and curbs on political freedoms. The turmoil has been compounded by a worsening economy, with GDP growth slipping below 3 per cent, inflation crossing 12 per cent and large-scale job losses in the ready-made garments sector. International agencies have warned of rising poverty, stalled reforms and falling investor confidence. Human rights groups have also raised concerns over alleged extra-judicial killings, intimidation of minorities and growing restrictions on media and civil society, as the crisis continues to threaten Bangladesh's stability.

■ India Lift Its First Squash World Cup

India won its first-ever Squash World Cup title, defeating top-seeded Hong Kong China 3–0 in the final at Express Avenue Mall on December 14 in Chennai. The Indian team of Joshna Chinappa, Abhay Singh, Anahat Singh and Velavan Senthilkumar remained unbeaten through the tournament. India dominated the group stage with 4–0 wins over Switzerland and Brazil, followed by 3–0 victories against South Africa and Egypt in the knockout rounds, before sealing the title in the final. The triumph improved India's earlier best finish of bronze in 2023 and made the country the first Asian nation to win the Squash World Cup. The historic win is expected to further popularise squash in India, especially as the sport prepares for its Olympic debut at the Los Angeles 2028 Games.
